Bernard Pictet with Bruno Borrione, produces works in glass for the Prince de Galles hotel in Paris

The Studio and Bruno Borrione have worked together on numerous occasions on projects for restaurants and hotels.

The architect, who is familiar with the many different techniques developed by the Studio, chose a sample of blackened mirror glass incorporating kinetic effects for the bar at the Prince de Galles hotel in Paris.

The Studio proposed a constructivist design that is sympathetic to the period and architecture of the hotel.

The kinetic effect blurs the reflected image to produce a softer impression.

Glass for interior design and architecture.

Centrally located in Paris, Atelier Bernard Pictet has been designing and producing original and luxurious works in glass for more than thirty years. The studio advises customers on all types of glass product for artworks, interior design and architecture, from feasibility studies to production and installation.

It works exclusively to commission, consulting with clients to produce bespoke pieces and constantly inventing new surfaces and patterns in glass.
